STANDON OF STANDON, STAFFS

ARMS:

*Quarterly argent and gules fretty or [STANDON later DUTTON]
*Quarterly argent and gules fretty or a bendlet azure (*c1272)
Quarterly ermine and gules fretty or (*a1295)

CREST:

But to return to the river Sow, which, being past Charlton, leaveth Standon on the same side. Of STANDON was lord at the Conquest [recte, 1086], one Briend [1]; and in Henry III.'s time [1216-72], one Vivianus. This Vivian had issue Thomas and Vivian; after whom sir Thomas Dutton, knt. son of sir Robert Dutton, knt. (which sir Robert was brother of sir Hugh Dutton of Dutton in Cheshire, knt.) married Philippa, daughter of the elder Vivian, and sister of Thomas and Vivian, who, as I take it, had issue Sir Robert Dutton, knt. who bare Dutton's coat [a], with a blue label, and, I think, had issue Thomas, who had issue Vivianus, dominus de Standon that lived 23 Edw. III. [1349/50] and bare, Quarterly ermine and gules, frett,, as Dutton of Dutton in Cheshire doth: since then Standon came to Essex of Berkshire, of whom the last sir Thomas sold it, in fee farm, to Vise and others, reserving the old rents, heriots and services [b].
